1: Roth--123 [3] (No date) 1890 Tasmanians
116, 515

"With regard to the question of vermin, we have the following statement by La Billardière (II. p. 55): 'These people are covered with vermin. We admired the patience of a mother, who was a long while employed in freeing one of her children from them; but we observed with disgust, that, like most of the blacks, she crushed these filthy insects between her teeth, and then swallowed them.'"